Helsinki Economics of Crime Workshop

June 8–9, 2020 | Hotel Katajanokka, Helsinki, Finland

Call for papers: The Helsinki Economics of Crime Workshop will provide an opportunity for scholars in the economics of crime field to present and discuss their work. The meeting will contain both contributed and invited papers. The keynote speakers are David Deming from Harvard University and Jennifer Doleac from Texas A&M University. The conference is organized by VATT Institute for Economic Research in collaboration with Aalto University School of Business and Helsinki Graduate School of Economics.

The conference will start in the morning on Monday, June 8 and extends to the afternoon on Tuesday, June 9. The meeting takes place in central Helsinki, at a historical prison converted to a unique boutique hotel where accommodation is reserved:
www.hotelkatajanokka.fi/en/

If accepted, accommodation will be paid for by the conference organizers. We are also able to provide limited support for travel expenses for presenting authors on an as needed basis (max. 500 EUR).

To submit a paper for consideration, please email your submission to events@vatt.fi by March 31, 2020. The local organizers will evaluate all submissions and communicate acceptance decisions by April 15. Presenters of accepted papers and other participants should register by May 1.

We look forward to seeing you in Helsinki!
